

Hole-In-One Tournament

nily Focus

The Highlander, Friday, November 9, 1990

part of silver anniversary

By K. C. CIFERNI
Fedhaven Correspondent

As part of the 25th anniversary of Fedhaven, under the superb direction of Sam Mitrano, the first Hole-In-One Tournament of the season was a huge success. He had many workers to thank for their help and assistance in making this event the best ever.

Fedhaven management donated all the food, soda and beer for the tournament in honor of the anniversary. There were 10 door prizes as well as prize money for the golfers. More than 200 tickets were given for prizes.

Cars were lined up all around the Friendship Park area as golfers and friends came to play and eat. As I went through the serving line, Andrew Orgon and Jerry McCormick were busy cooking hotdogs on the grill as Bobbi Hawkins helped serve her famous hotdog sauce and Doris Kennedy helped with condiments. The men cooked 300 hotdogs and every one was cooked to perfection!

All areas in the golfing events were crowded with onlookers and potential winners. But the actual monetary winners were: Putting Board - Shirl Garnett and Sam Mitrano tied for first place, sinking 7 out of 10 balls. They were followed by the girls, Doris Clarkson, Angie Newman and Dot Scheuch, who managed to sink 6 out of 10 balls.

Winners on the ladies driving range at 80 yards were Angie Newman in first place with 7 points; Doris Clarkson and Marge Stewart with 6 points in second place, and Phyllis DiPaolo and Mrs. Doug Brooks with 5 points in third place.

Winners on the men's driving range at 115 yards were George Masters and Tom Keller in first place with 7 points, followed by Frank Reda with 6 points and Gordon Hastings and Howard Newman with 5 points.

This very special Hole-In-One had a terrific turnout of golfers. There were a total of 137 men who attempted to drive the ball 115 yards in that event.

In the 80-yard women's event there were 18 girls who were swinging their clubs.

The putting green was continually busy as 116 men and women attempted their luck at sinking that little ball.

Not only did all these people turn out for the event with their friends who cheered them on, but we suddenly realized we had some

Claude Osborn above take his golf seriously as Fedhaven Assistant Manager Gail Keller watches as he putts on the putting green at the Hole-In-One Tourney.

Hole-In-One Tournament

nily Focus

The Highlander, Friday, November 9, 1990

part of silver anniversary

By K. C. CIFERNI
Fedhaven Correspondent

As part of the 25th anniversary of Fedhaven, under the superb direction of Sam Mitrano, the first Hole-In-One Tournament of the season was a huge success. He had many workers to thank for their help and assistance in making this event the best ever.

Fedhaven management donated all the food, soda and beer for the tournament in honor of the anniversary. There were 10 door

prizes as well as prize money for the golfers. More than 200 tickets were given for prizes.

Cars were lined up all around the Friendship Park area as golfers and friends came to play and eat. As I went through the serving line, Andrew Orgon and Jerry McCormick were busy cooking hotdogs on the grill as Bobbi Hawkins helped serve her famous hotdog sauce and Doris Kennedy helped with condiments. The men cooked 300 hotdogs and every one was cooked to perfection!

All areas in the golfing events were crowded with onlookers and potential winners. But the actual monetary winners were: Putting Board - Shirl Garnett and Sam Mitrano tied for first place, sinking 7 out of 10 balls. They were followed by the girls, Doris Clarkson, Angie Newman and Dot Scheuch, who managed to sink 6 out of 10 balls.

Winners on the ladies driving range at 80 yards were Angie Newman in first place with 7 points; Doris Clarkson and Marge Stewart with 6 points in second place, and Phyllis DiPaolo and Mrs. Doug Brooks with 5 points in third place.

Winners on the men's driving range at 115 yards were George Masters and Tom Keller in first place with 7 points, followed by Frank Reda with 6 points and Gordon Hastings and Howard Newman with 5 points.

This very special Hole-In-One had a terrific turnout of golfers. There were a total of 137 men who attempted to drive the ball 115 yards in that event.

In the 80-yard women's event there were 18 girls who were swinging their clubs.

The putting green was continually busy as 116 men and women attempted their luck at sinking that little ball.

Not only did all these people turn out for the event with their friends who cheered them on, but we suddenly realized we had some

Claude Osborn above take his golf seriously as Fedhaven Assistant Manager Gail Keller watches as he putts on the putting green at the Hole-In-One Tourney.